

FREE PaaS PLATFORM

Moving from one middleware software platform to another is time consuming and expensive.
Staying on the wrong platform is worse.

Overview

Business automation and integration delivers significant benefit to companies that need to synchronise and share information, extend business hours without the staffing overheads, or formalise processes to reduce administrative overheads and improve consistency and response time.

In recent years, cloud platforms have begun offering services such as integration, robotic process automation, and business process management. Organisations respond by automating a single project, and then another, until the technology becomes critical to the business.

The problem is that often the first choice, while good for a single project, struggles to deliver the robust quality of service needed for the enterprise. The pricing model designed for single projects becomes very expensive, and the technology brittle.

If you recognise these symptoms read on, otherwise congratulations.

Use Responsiv Cloud, Free

Moving from one middleware software platform to another is time consuming and expensive.

By quickly recognising the problem and making the move, the problem is minimised and less likely to distract the business from more important matters.

Responsiv is offering free use of Responsiv Cloud Platforms:

For 6 Months - Existing Cloud Subscription

Don't pay for Responsiv Cloud during the end of your existing cloud platform subscription. Get started on Responsiv Cloud during the overlap period and minimise service downtime.

Commit to a 24-month subscription for the price of 18 months, and Responsiv begin annual billing 6 months after the start date*.

For 3 Months - Migrate from Self-Hosting

Free use of Responsiv Cloud for the migration period from your existing self-hosted platform.

Commit to a 24-month subscription for the price of 21 months, and Responsiv begin annual billing 3 months after the start date.

Benefits

Any technology migration requires a period of parallel operation to support testing and allow applications to be moved in a controlled and managed way.

This offer helps to manage the cost that will always be problematic, and gives you access to skilled experts who can support the migration from end to end.

The platform can be used to develop and test, as well as full production use during the free period.

Cost-Effective Middleware

Responsiv Cloud Platforms are developed around core technologies that have led the world in data handling and business efficiency for decades. Our technology is proven in many of the world's largest companies, and in the smallest.

Your migration journey and its complexity will depend on your starting point. We can help with that.

Responsiv Cloud is...

- 100% compatible with IBM applications to minimise migration risks from on-premises installations
- a managed service; removing the strain and responsibility for hosting, managing, patching, and upgrading the cloud platform from your in-house teams

Optional Services

- Responsiv Consulting for application development, process discovery, project management, and more
- Responsiv Assist for installation and service preparation skills
